Instructions

Purpose: The Final Reading Approval (FRA) is the official document by which the completion of a student's final document is reported to the Graduate College.

Context: All theses and dissertations must be submitted to the Graduate College for final review. The determination of readiness for review is granted by the members of the defense committee with the signatures below certifying that the student's work has been reviewed by each committee member and is in its final form. Graduate College reviews cannot proceed unless all committee members have signed the FRA.

Procedure: An FRA is completed and submitted to the Graduate College when the student's document is ready for final review by the Graduate College. The FRA is completed immediately upon determining that the student has completed all work required by their committee and is signed by all voting members of the defense committee. The original copy of the completed FRA is submitted to the Graduate College via ScholarWorks in conjunction with their thesis or dissertation.

Signatures

The undersigned persons are the voting members of the defense committee and attest that:

I have read the thesis/dissertation in its final form and have found that (1) the modifications required by the defense committee are complete; (2) the format, citations, and bibliographic style are consistent and acceptable; (3) the illustrative materials including figures, tables, and charts are in place; and (4) the final manuscript is ready for submission to the Graduate College.
